DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of Species I in the reply filed on 4/24/06 is acknowledged. The Applicant contends that claims 1-4, 8, 10, 11 and 18-20 read on the elected species, however, claims 18-20 depend from non-elected claim 17. Accordingly, claims 1-4, 8, 10 and 11 will be examined herein and claims 5-7, 9 and 12-21 are withdrawn from further consideration.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: On page 8, line 16, "connector sections 22" should be --connector sections 32 and 34--. Further, on page 12, line 21, "rear panel 82" should be --rear panel 82a--. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4, 10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Obagi in view of Sage. In regard to claims 1, 10 and 11, Obagi discloses a massaging apparatus for applying lotion to the body comprised of a lotion dispensing section having a reservoir 18 for holding lotion and a plurality of rollers 8 having an inner portion exposed to the lotion and an outer portion engageable with the user. Although the Obagi device does not disclose a pair of integrally formed handles, attention is directed to the Sage reference, which discloses another massage apparatus comprised of a lotion dispensing section and a pair of integrally formed handles 12, 14 connected to the dispensing section via "connector sections" in order to enable the device to be used to conveniently massage the back of the user. Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form such handles onto the Obagi device in order to enable the device to be used to massage the back of a user. In regard to claim 2, the rollers 8 in the Obagi device are spherical and disposed in a socket connected with the lotion dispensing section. In regard to claim 3, the rollers include grooves 35 thereon (see Figure 7) for conducting the lotion from the reservoir. In regard to claim 4, the sockets in which the rollers are positioned cooperate with the rollers to control the flow rate of the lotion.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 8 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The Suida, Morrison et al. and Horne references are cited for disclosing other massaging devices.
